

I am opposed to any changes to the FCC rules. We already have enough filth coming into our homes. If these changes were made to allow vulgar language and nudity, I will just unplug the TV. There are many other much more positive things my family can do with our time, and honestly, should be doing already.